ELIZABETH PRICE CHOSEN AS A FUTURE LONG TERM CARE LEADER

(Baton Rouge, LA – July 25, 2017) The Louisiana Nursing Home Association announced today that Elizabeth Price has been chosen by the American Health Care Association and the National Center for Assisted Living (AHCA/NCAL) as a future leader in long term and post-acute care. Ms. Price will join the Association’s Future Leaders program, a year-long program that offers training and guidance for long term and post-acute care professionals.

“AHCA/NCAL is dedicated to offering skilled nursing professionals who are providing high-quality care the opportunity to enhance their leadership skills,” said Mark Parkinson, President & CEO of AHCA/NCAL. “We look forward to seeing Elizabeth Price and the entire Future Leaders class apply these newly-acquired skills to improve the well-being of individuals within long term and post-acute care.”

“Selecting Elizabeth for this prestigious opportunity recognizes her passion for providing the highest quality care to the residents she serves,” said Louisiana Nursing Home Association Executive Director Mark Berger. “I am confident that she will be an excellent addition to the Future Leaders program.”

Elizabeth Price is a licensed nursing facility administrator and is pursuing her MBA at the LSU Flores MBA Program. She received a bachelor’s degree in neuroscience from Tulane University.

Since 2004, AHCA/NCAL has hosted long term and post-acute care professionals in the Future Leaders program. Selected participants both demonstrate leadership potential and represent the interests of both state and national long term care providers. The program covers the latest theories and practical applications in quality management, customer satisfaction, and leadership. The year-long program kicks off with a two-day symposium, “Future Leaders of Long Term Care in America,” held each year in Washington, D.C. This year’s symposium will take place September 13 – 15, 2017.
